

Pastor's Corner

REV. LARRY POWELL
Elba First Assembly of God

The world in which we live seems to be very unstable. We look around and see corruption, tension between nations, and military strife in the Persian Gulf.

But, through all the instability, the Christian does not have to be gloomy or depressed. The Christian has a bright side on which he can look. Contrary to the possible belief of some, all is not lost! All hope is not gone! The Christian does have a hope - he has a "Blessed Assurance."

First, there is the "Blessed Assurance" that Jesus Christ is with us. He once told His disciples, "Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world." Although you may not be able to visibly see Him and you may not audibly hear His voice, you may rest assured that He is present, and that He dwells in the heart of every child of God.

Secondly, there is the "Blessed Assurance" that God loves us. After all, is He not the One Who created man? Did He not create a tremendous amount of love and trust by giving man dominion over this beautiful sphere on which we live? Sure He did!

And that same love, the everlasting love of God that He declared through the writing of Jeremiah the Prophet, is still in existence today! God is not respecter of persons; He does not choose an individual because of color, sex, or national origin. The Scriptures declare, "For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

To God, the rich and the poor, the beautiful and the not so lovely, the tall and the short are all on equal ground. He has an infinite love for all, and all must come to Him in the same manner. Finally, there is the "Blessed Assurance" that our Lord Jesus Christ is coming again. God has too much invested in the Church to leave it in a sin-infested world forever. He who gave His only Son to be the Founder of the Church, also gave Him to be its Redeemer.

Just as surely as He has redeemed us spiritually, He will send His Son to redeem us physically. There will be a bodily resurrection! Jesus gave the promise, "In my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto Myself; that where I am, there you may be also."

Yes, there is hope for the Christian! Today, let us renew our faith, hope, and trust in the Lord Jesus Christ and then rest in the "Blessed Assurance" that only He can give. God bless you and I love you all.

BRAINSTORMS

By Ferrin Cox

We had not planned to watch a single minute of the Democratic convention until Thursday night. Our reasoning was that we wanted to hear the Jesse Jackson speech, expecting him to make a memorable address to the nation from the largest platform the man has ever spoken from during his career. Luckily a desire to see the 10 p.m. news Tuesday night caused us to stumble upon him talking two nights ahead of our planning. He had just started when we warmed up the oil tube. The first part was the words of some speech writer, but the last thirty minutes were pure Jesse. As we predicted, he had the delegates eating out of his hands before he finished. Not only eating out of his hands, but his most loyal supporters, those who best identified with his words, were openly crying. We are glad we listened to Jesse Jackson Tuesday night and now we are finished with the convention.

City of Elba politics are roaring right now. With a surprisingly large number of candidates in the race, (we count a total of 22) the voters will surely have a choice. If a voter doesn't like one, there is another to look at... in fact in most races, there are several more to look at. We don't have any idea how the voters will react to the new district voting method, but a month from now we will know, 'cause we will have counted the votes in the first primary.

Coffee County voters need to be sure they check the names to be purged from the list of qualified voters. The list is published in this issue of The Elba Clipper and will be printed again next week. If your name shouldn't be struck, be sure to take action immediately. There are around 6,000 names on the list and there is bound to be some mistakes and that is why the names are being published, so you can help prevent a mistake.

A good, juicy item to get the city politicians talking about is electric rates. Presently Elba is getting a discount from the wholesaler (Alabama Electric) that is predicted to end sometime within the next year. This discount exceeds the "profit" the utility makes each month and cutting out of this rate cut could mean trouble for electric rates in Elba. If this discount is in fact discontinued and the local utility starts going into the hole, then either expenses will have to be cut or... you and I will get a rate increase.

We are reading about all the hard times of the gambling casinos in Atlantic City, New Jersey. At the same time we are reading about the construction of a new casino-hotel and the major remodeling of another for an investment of many additional millions. Therefore before we all start feeling sorry for all those motel-casino owners, explain why more millions are being invested in that there isn't no profit in the whole affair. We think they are just crying to the state of New Jersey for a cut in taxes to increase their already huge profits.

A couple of area farmers noted our comments about the rain last week and assured us they wanted it to keep raining as long as it would. Both have irrigation systems but explained that it is a whole lot easier to wait and plow than it is to work with those heavy irrigation pipes and pumps. One noted that if they had been doing as they should have, the plowing would not be needed right now! We didn't argue one bit, and can assure them the rain ain't hurting us a bit.

My Number 2 son and I caught a fine mess of fish the other morning. We hit the water early and had our first fish before the sun was hot. I returned alone that evening and caught only one fish. Now that ain't because of my inability, but because of the hot sun sending all the fish to hide.

Windell Bryan was giving us a sack of nice red tomatoes Sunday morning and we were trying to protest 'cause he has been sick and in the hospital. But then he explained that he and his wife had eaten tomatoes, given them away, canned about fifty quarts and were still getting tomatoes!! Well we took the sack, went home with them and after church had a nice matter sandwich.

L.F. 'Sonny' Inman To Seek Post
On City Council From District 5

Former Elba City Councilman L.F. 'Sonny' Inman has announced plans to seek a return to the council from District 5 in the upcoming municipal election.

Inman, a resident of Elba for over 50 years and a member of the city council from 1980-84, has been an active member of the community in various civic and governmental affairs throughout his life and is married to the former Emma Margaret Cooper and they have four grown children - Bobby, Betsy, Joel and David.

"I am seeking another term on the council because I feel the City of Elba is now in poor shape because of a lack of leadership, organization and proper management," stated Inman. "I displayed leadership during my first term on the council and with my qualifications I guarantee you if elected I will once again lead the city back to better days."

"I spent 35 years in management in the civil service and in the United States Army," added Inman, "and I know what it takes to be successful. In many areas in our city government there is poor management and absolutely no means of checks and balances. Waste and mismanagement disturb me greatly and when that occurs in city government it should upset everyone! The waste in this city is visible in all areas and it must be stopped. We can't get rich by cutting back on the waste, but if we are able to save some pennies every day, before long we'll have saved dollars."

"As a councilman I will stand up for my beliefs and the beliefs of the citizens of Elba," said Inman. "I see things happening every day that are wrong, but there is no one that will stand up for the people and point a finger. I have always stood up for what is right and as a member of the council I will make sure my voice and the voices of the people are heard. I will cooperate with the other members of the council and mayor, but I won't be a 'yes man' for anyone. As a councilman I will be active every day and visit City Hall daily to check on the activities of the city. Our city government as it is now is not following the letter of the law when it comes to separation of power, but I assure you as a councilman I will fight to restore the council to its proper place in the operation of the city. A very good friend of mine is the mayor of a large city in Alabama and he told me just the other day that the key to a well run city is leadership, proper management, distribution of authority and representation at the state level. The city lacks both leadership and management, there is no authority except in the mayor's office and our fathers rarely ask our state officials for anything. These things must change."

"As a member of the council my first priority will be to upgrade the Elba General Hospital and Nursing Home," pledged Inman. "As a former employee at the hospital I know firsthand the going on at the facility and the problems it faces and how to solve these problems. It is our hospital and we have to make sure that it will always be open and ready to serve up when needed. I will devote countless hours to making sure the hospital is here to stay and equipped to treat the citizens of Elba and the surrounding area."

"I believe that one of my strong suits is organization," said Inman. "I have never started a project that failed! I have been active in many projects through the years in Elba and have followed them to the end, and with the help of our fine citizens we can work together to put our city back on the right track. I won't start anything that I am not willing to finish and make successful. I am not afraid to work and everyone who knows me knows it. Let me work for you."

In closing, Inman stated, "I am going to address the issues during my campaign and not back off from anyone. I believe the people of Elba have the right to know what has been going on in our city and just what I will do to see those things are stopped and that in the future they won't happen again. This is our city and we must work together to keep it a place to be proud of."

to the future of Elba and as a member of the council can look at the needs of the city from a different perspective. I look at the city with both the present and future in mind and feel I can be a productive member of the council."

"It seems to me that the city is missing a sense of energy," said Brunson. "There needs to be a revival of civic pride and through the action of the council and its leadership I believe the city can move forward in years to come and be a better place to live and raise a family. The council must display a willingness to work together for the improvement of the community and if this is done the citizens will follow and hope that so will the rich civic pride this town has enjoyed for so long!"

"A lot of people who work in Elba choose not to live here," said Brunson, "and there has to be a reason. If these people lived in Elba they would spend their paychecks here and in doing so help the merchants in town. We've got to find out what is wrong with our community and work to make it more attractive for everyone."

"We can always improve city services and I'm sure that will be the most talked about issue in the campaign," added Brunson, "but once again the services and their quality fall back into the laps of the council, who are elected to make sure the city meets the needs of the people. The council must listen to the people and be active in its support of the people."

In closing, Brunson stated, "I pledge that if I am elected to the city council, the council post will receive my utmost energies. I will be accessible to the citizens at any time and will hear the concerns of the citizens and make sure the concerns are brought to the attention of the council."

Hotline Established

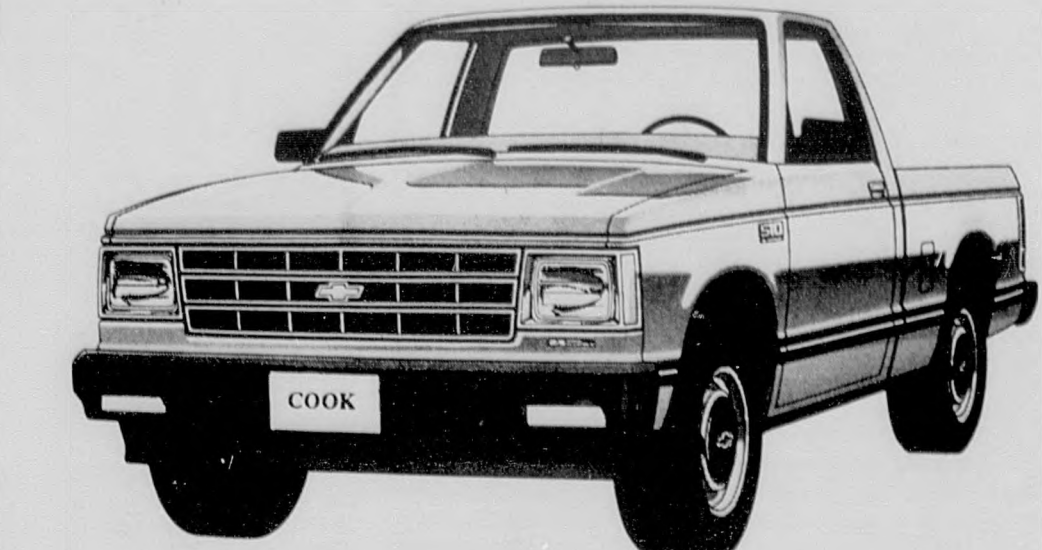

For Sellers Of Hay

A toll-free hotline has been established to aid Alabama farmers seeking to buy or sell hay and other feed ingredients for livestock.

The establishment of the hotline by Commissioner Albert McDonald of the Alabama Department of Agriculture and industry is in response to the drought situation that has impacted agricultural production in Alabama.

"Because of the spotty, inconsistent rains received recently, I believe there may be areas within the state that will have hay and other feed ingredients to sell to those in need," said Commissioner McDonald. "People who have hay or other feedstuffs to sell or those who need to buy hay should call the Hay Assistance Hotline at 1-800-321-0018."

Individuals calling the toll-free number within the state will be asked to report the amount, type and location of hay or other feed ingredients for sale or desired to purchase.

Heather Stinson Named A Scholastic All-American

The National Secondary Education Council announced recently that Heather Stinson has been named a Scholastic All-American.

The NSEC has established the Scholastic All-American Award Program in order to offer superior students who excel in the Academic disciplines. The Scholastic All-American Scholars must earn a 3.3 of better grade point average. Only Scholars selected by a secondary school instructor, counselor, or other qualified sponsor are accepted. These scholars are also eligible for other awards given by the NSEC. These are awards few students can ever hope to attain.

Heather who attends Elba Jr. High, was nominated for this National Award by Mrs. Ricky Muldrup. Heather will appear in the Scholastic All-American Scholar Directory, which is published nationally.

Recognizing and supporting our young is more important than ever before in American history. Certainly, winners of the Scholastic All-American Awards should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the National Secondary Education Council.

The Council selects Scholastic All-American Scholars upon the exclusive recommendations of teachers, coaches, counselors, and other qualified sponsors. Once awarded, the students may be recognized by the NSEC for other honors.

Pastor's Corner

Elba First Assembly of God

One night a man had a dream. He dreamed he was walking along the beach with the Lord. Across the sky flashed scenes from his life. For each scene he noticed two sets of footprints in the sand: one belonging to him and the other to the Lord.

When the last scene of his life flashed before him, he looked back at the footprints in the sand. He noticed that many times along the path of his life there was only one set of footprints. He also noticed that this happened at the very low and saddest times in his life.

This really bothered him and he questioned the Lord about it. "Lord, You said that once I decided to follow You, You would walk with me all the way. But I noticed that during the most troublesome times in my life, there was only one set of footprints. I don't understand why, when I needed you most, you would leave me."

The Lord replied, "My precious child, I love you and I would never leave you. During your times of trial and suffering, when you see only one set of footprints, it was then that I carried you." Author Unknown

The child of God has the "Blessed Assurance" that God is with him at all times. In Deuteronomy 33:27 we find these words: "The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms. . . ."

If you are trusting Jesus Christ as your Lord and Savior, you can rest on His words, "and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Amen." (Matthew 28:20).

Just remember, as you walk through this life there will sometimes only be one set of footprints - when He is carrying you. At other times there will be two sets - when He is walking beside you, "for He hath said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee. . . ." (Hebrews 13:5).

Tips For The Homemaker

Sandra T. Coffey
County Agent

Half-Gallon Jars

USDA has set no processing times and the Extension Service does not recommend canning in half-gallon jars.

Soup - Beware Of Botulism Poisoning

Homemakers have the idea that if each vegetable is pre-cooked separately the soup mixture does not have to be processed as long in the pressure canner. You can pre-cook vegetables all day long and the temperature will never get any higher than 212 degrees F. To kill Clostridium botulinum spore you must get the temperature up to 240 degrees F and hold it at that temperature for the recommended time. The only way to do this is in the pressure canner.

If corn is added to soup mixture it should be pressured at 10 pounds pressure for 85 minutes to kill botulism. If you take the quick and easy way out and only bring the pressure up to 15 pounds and then let it cool off, your soup may not be safe for your family. You may eat it processed like this for 10 years but one jar may be deadly—you won't be able to see or smell the deadly toxin from the botulism spore. Do you want to take the chance? Adding small amounts of vinegar will not change the acidity of the mixture enough to not pressure the soup the full recommended time.

Recommendations For Canning Soup - Soup Mixture

Scald and peel 5 quarts tomatoes. Core and cut into quarters. Combine with 2 quarts corn or lima beans, 2 quarts okra, and 2 tablespoons salt. Cook to the consistency of thick soup. Pack into containers to within 1 inch of top. Add 1 teaspoon salt to each quart. Adjust jar lids and bands. Process in pressure canner at 10 pounds pressure (240 degrees F.) Note: Process the length of time needed for vegetables requiring the longest processing time.

Quick Tip - Leave corn out of your soup mixture. Freeze corn in ice cubes. When you heat a jar of soup to eat, just drop in a cube of corn. It will cook in the amount of time it takes to cook the soup.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Angela Hughes - Associate County Agent

Sandwich time - Summer-time means sandwich time - for picnics, quick lunches and easy snacks.

Plan ahead and keep good, nutritious sandwich makings on hand. Start with good bread. Provide whole grain breads as well as white bread, and provide a variety of fillings. Keep tuna or corned beef on the shelf and several boiled eggs and pickle relish in the refrigerator. Place celery sticks in water in a covered container in the refrigerator, ready to chop. When you stew chicken or bake a ham, chop some meat and freeze it to make a salad for sandwiches.

Try a variety of spreads. Use mustard instead of mayonnaise and create new spreads. For example, season whipped butter or margarine with minced fresh dill and lemon juice or finely chopped green onions or chives. Store in a covered container in the refrigerator.

For a quick picnic, buy the fixings for subminiatures and let each person make his own. Include French bread, soft butter, salami, sliced cheese, sliced ham and tomatoes. Pack in a cooler - don't risk food poisoning.

All of us are prone to grocery shopping mistakes—forgetting items we need or buying items we don't need. But if you use your sense, you can save cents at the supermarket.

First, make a shopping list and use it. Keep a memo pad in the kitchen and write down items as you run out of them. Plan weekly menus around specials at the grocery store.

Plan your week's major shopping trip for the end of the week. Supermarkets run more sales on these days. Also, shop the strong points of local supermarkets. If they're located close together, for example, one can have a great produce section and another a great meat counter.

Don't shop when you're hungry, because everything looks good to you, and you'll probably buy items you don't need.

Give store brands and generics a chance. They're usually cheaper. And don't forget to read labels to be sure you get your money's worth, both in package size and ingredients.

Clip coupons for things you'll really use. You can also save money weekly by buying sale items such as canned goods or meat you can freeze for future use.

Check out prices! A display or cart that looks like a sale isn't always a bargain. Also check canned goods that are drastically marked down. If cans are dented, don't buy them.

Finally, store groceries properly as soon as you get home. Don't let perishables sit on the counter or in the car where they can spoil.

If you're in the market for a new refrigerator, it pays to shop wisely before you make the investment. There are several key features to look for that can make the difference between an appliance that keeps food cold—or worse, an appliance that keeps food at its best while providing convenience, capability and durability, as well.

For example, if you've ever had to clean the entire refrigerator after an overturned dish on the top shelf drips its way right down to the bottom shelf, you know the advantage solid glass shelves offer. They keep the sticky mess in one place—easy to get to and clean up. If you're a family, to ever in and out of the freezer to get ice cubes, you know the convenience an automatic ice and water dispenser in the freezer door provides—not to mention the energy saved from reduced freezer door openings.

Another key feature to look for is quality construction such as a durable porcelain-on-steel interior that will resist scratches, stains, odors, and is easy to clean. All refrigerators look great when they're brand new—but quality construction can help keep it looking great for many years.

Take time to check out the warranty—the strongest warranties are typically offered by respected premium manufacturers.

Horticulture Tips

Dan J. Presley
County Agent-Coordinator

I hope nobody is complaining about the rain! It may create more problems with some pests such as weeds and diseases, but consider the alternative. It's obvious a lot of growers are going to be off schedule for their leafspot sprays.

As you are able to get back in the field or using aerial sprays, work your way back on schedule. Due to the rapid growth of vines and the weather, a 7-10 day interval right now would be advisable.

We are seeing higher levels of defoliation such as cutworms and corn earworms in some fields (up to 22 per foot of row). Remember, cutworms are basically leaf feeders on peanuts and unless they are causing more than 30% defoliation, don't worry about them.

Crown rot, as many growers call it, is caused by the fungus Aspergillus niger. The taproot and crown of wilted/dead plants usually have a characteristic black sooty growth. The dry weather stress we've just been through makes this early season problem much worse. Hopefully, with the moisture we've seen the last of plants dying from this disease.

It is going to be a real chore for many of you to find a way to handle the weeds coming on now, but whatever you do don't resort to using non-labeled herbicides to solve your problem. Check out our Extension weed control recommendation guide for post emergence materials that are recommended.

I feel sure that this is going to be the year we are going to have to use a bushhog to keep some of the weeds down so that we can get the leafspot sprays to the peanuts. I heard one farmer say that he had never bushhogged any peanuts that did not have a lot of peanuts under them. That is good news.

Brown Patch

We welcome the rains, but with the rains we need to be on the lookout for several lawn diseases. One of these is brown patch.

Brown patch caused by Rhizoctonia solani is an important disease on a number of warm-season turfgrasses. Bermudagrass, centipedegrass, and zoysiagrass may be heavily damaged by this disease. Brown patch is often found in the late spring or early fall when temperatures range between 75-95 degrees F. Disease development is most rapid during periods of hot, muggy weather. Excessive nitrogen fertilization favors the appearance of brown patch.

Brown patch appears as a circular to irregular area that ranges in size from several inches to a few feet apart. The overall symptoms of continued decline and spring dead spot can somewhat resemble those of brown patch. Leaves and stems attacked by brown patch first become water-soaked, wilt, and later turn brown as the tissue dies. Large areas of a lawn may be damaged by brown patch. Following a heavy dew, a border of dark green, wilted leaves or "smoke ring" may be seen around the edges of the damaged area. A gradual thinning of St. Augustinegrass and Centipedegrass lawns may be observed.

Certain management practices may predispose a lawn to brown patch. Excessive fertilization of lawns should be avoided. Soft succulent tissue is extremely susceptible to attack by brown patch. Free moisture on the foliage is needed for the rapid spread of brown patch. Lawns should be irrigated at midday to minimize the period of time the turf remains wet.

A wide variety of fungicides are registered for use on turfgrasses for the control of brown patch. Tersan 1991, Dyrene, Fore, Daconil 2787, and Terracot (PCNB) should be readily available to homeowners. The routine use of fungicides on home lawns should be avoided because it's too expensive and probably unnecessary. Fungicides should be used only if brown patch has been diagnosed. Fungicide applications should be made at 10-14 day intervals. Two to three fungicide applications should do the job.

Early Blight
Early blight is just now beginning to show up on many of our tomatoes. This is due to the dry weather and a disease could not spread, but now that we are getting rains the disease will cover a tomato plant very rapidly.

This is a fungal disease that damages leaves and fruit on tomato plants. It causes one-fourth inch circular spots on the leaves. Tissue surrounding these spots usually turns yellow. Leaves turn brown and drop off. Tomatoes may drop off, too.

Dark, leathery, decayed spots appear on the stem end of fruits infected with early blight. The spots enlarge and develop circles. The decay extends deep into the flesh of the fruit.

If early blight isn't stopped soon enough, it can lead to other problems like sunscald, fruit rot, and southern blight. To control this disease, spray with one tablespoon per gallon of water with either of the following: Bravo, Daconil, Mancozeb on a 7-10 day schedule.

Unusual Pest Seen On Peas
I have had numerous calls lately about swarms of small flying insects feeding on southern peas. These were identified as false chinch bugs.

This insect is often mistaken for the chinch bug but is slightly shorter and more slender. It feeds on a wide variety of fruit, vegetable, and agronomic crops. It is an important pest of sugar beets.

Although widely distributed in the United States, it causes the most damage in the semi-arid regions west of the Mississippi River. The insects increase in numbers during the early spring and summer, mostly among weeds and other uncultivated plants. When these plants become less succulent, they migrate to garden crops and feed on sap using their piercing sucking mouthparts.

Recent rains may have solved this dry weather problem. If populations remain high, spray plants with Sevin or Diazinon using ample water for good coverage.

Squash Bugs

Squash bug nymphs and adults injure squash and related plants by sucking sap from leaves, stems and fruit. Severe leaf and stem feeding results in wilting and death of individual leaves. Feeding on the fruit causes small, watery squash.

Squash bug adults are gray-black and about 25mm (1 inch) in length. Adults lay masses of bronze colored eggs on squash leaves. Early instars are brightly colored with red and green. Later instars are gray. Only one generation occurs each year but because of the prolonged egg laying period all stages of the insect can be found throughout the summer. Natural enemies play an important role in controlling this insect. However, insecticides are often necessary to insure high quality squash. Butternut and Royal Crown appear to be fairly resistant to squash bug damage. As always, be sure to destroy crop residues to eliminate an overwintering habitat.

Seniors Of Cordelia Street Meet Recently

When the cat is away, the mice will play and so did the Senior Citizens of Cordelia Street when they met for their weekly meeting at the HRDC Building on July 14.

Ms. Boling was on vacation and she was really missed by us. Since we did not meet last week, there was a lot of news to catch up on. Some of our members are busy putting up fruits and vegetables.

Also, some played dominoes. Of course, the lovely rains were discussed.

A delicious lunch was served to the following: Myrl Burkett, Zedie Bouyer, Maude Price, Bonnie Wesley, Marie Lou Goodson, Mary Longfellow, Helen McCahan, Frank and Madeline McCollough, Marvin and Winslow Matthews, Arthur Blackman, Grace Goodson, Dixie Mae Maddox, Cora McBride, Marion Brunson, Sarah Smith and Wanda Sasser.

Can't we slow it down a little, please! Ever since my little girl got too old for her baby bed it has been tradition for Daddy to lay down with her at bedtime until she dozes off. I've often wished out loud that she would just tell us "good night" and head off to bed, but Sunday night she went to bed by herself and all she needed from Daddy was a good night kiss. It was great until I went to bed and started to realize that maybe she didn't need me quite as much as before. I finally got to sleep after a few hours of thinking, but I can assure you that the next time she wants Daddy to lay down with her I won't complain, because I want her to stay little just as long as possible.

BABE RUTH ALL-STARS PLACE 2ND IN DISTRICT

The Elba Babe Ruth League's 14-15-year-old All-Stars competed last week in Andalusia and posted two wins before being ousted by eventual winner Opp. The All-Stars had impressive wins over Brundidge and Andalusia and batted Opp for seven tough innings before losing in the semifinals, but in the end it just wasn't meant to be as the All-Stars had to settle for the runner-up spot.

The All-Stars and their coaches worked long and hard preparing for the District tourney and the hard work showed as the team turned in two excellent defensive performances and far exceeded many fans' expectations. The team played solid in the infield throughout the tournament and it seemed like Derrick Deal, Joe Johnson or Hayden Young would come up with at least one big play every single inning. Young had to be the tourney's "Most Valuable Player" as he had 18 assists and 13 putouts in only four games from his shortstop position and turned three double plays that all killed potential scoring threats. Another real standout on defense was catcher Todd McCall, who threw out five runners attempting to steal and did an outstanding job behind the plate.

The team's hitting was suspect before the tourney began and it did falter in some crucial situations, but all in all it was better than expected and Shane Blanton and Mark Magwood both came through with super efforts. Blanton got 8 hits in 14 at bats to bat .571 and also scored 4 runs, while collecting 5 runs-batted-in and Magwood got 5 hits in 12 at bats to bat .417 and knocked in 8 runs, including 4 on a grand-slam home-run that sailed far over the 350 sign in left-center field.

It's true that the All-Stars didn't win the tourney, but the players and coaches all gave it everything they had and I was proud that they represented our city. Good job!

DIXIE YOUTH STARS SURPRISE TEAM IN TOURNEY

The Elba Dixie Youth All-Stars weren't supposed to be a threat to win the Dixie Youth sub-district tournament; however, it looks like somebody forgot to tell the players because as of Monday night the local All-Stars were still very much alive in the tourney and appeared to have a shot at taking the title! The All-Stars opened the tournament with lopsided wins over the Troy Americans and Greenville and stunned even the coaches and parents with the ease with which they handled the two perennial powers. The Stars lost to the Troy Nationals in the third round 2-0 to fall into the losers bracket, but a 2-0 loss is nothing to be ashamed of and the coaches are confident that if their team plays well they can win it all.

More on the DYL Stars next week after the tourney ends.

WHAT HAPPENED TO MONOPOLY?

During the past three weeks members of the Alabama football team have been in the news, but not for their athletic accomplishments. First, a player who has been known to get in trouble gets stabbed in a part of town known for being a haven for drug dealers, then over the weekend another player gets his jaw broken after a hit by a man with a crowbar. Come guys, let's all get a couple of Monopoly games and stay at the dorm after midnight buying hotels. It's a whole lot safer!

13-year-old All-Stars ready for run at state title

The Elba Babe Ruth League 13-Year-Old All-Stars will compete in the State Babe Ruth Baseball Tournament this week in Daphne and will be among six teams competing for the state title and a trip to the Regional Tournament, scheduled for next week in Mississippi.

14-15 year-old All-Stars place second at District

The Elba Babe Ruth League 14-15 Year Old All-Stars competed in the District 2 baseball tournament last week in Andalusia and placed second in the four-team event with a record of 2 wins and 2 losses.

Opp won the tourney with a 3-0 record and earned the right to advance to this week's state tournament in Mobile.

Following are highlights of Elba's action in the event:

The Elba All-Stars combined excellent defense with clutch hitting to defeat Brundidge 6-0 in the opening game of the District 2 tournament. Elba jumped ahead 1-0 in the first inning when Ronald Thigpen opened the game with a walk, stole second and raced home on a single by Shane Blanton and then upped its lead to 4-0 in the third inning on the strength of three hits.

A walk to Hayden Young started the third inning fireworks, while a two-out single by Joe Johnson knocked in Young and upped the lead to 2-0. A single by Shane Blanton gave Elba two baserunners and both men came in to score when Mark Magwood doubled to rightfield.

Brundidge collected 3 hits in the fourth inning to lead the bases with only 1 out; however, shortstop Hayden Young turned what appeared to be a hit up the middle into a double-play and Elba survived the inning without giving up a run.

Brundidge continued to hit in the fifth inning and got 2 hits to put runners on second and third with one out, but pitcher Shane Spurlin got the second out on a strikeout and then got another batter to pop-up as Elba dodged another bullet.

Mark Magwood singled to open the sixth inning for Elba and moved to second on a walk to John Jacobs, then trotted home when Shane Spurlin singled up the middle, giving Elba a 5-0 lead.

Brundidge combined 1 hit with two walks in the bottom of the sixth to load the bases with one out, but Joe Johnson came in to pitch and fanned a batter for his second out and then got an infield out as Elba again got out of trouble without allowing a run.

An RBI double by Shane Blanton knocked in Ronald Thigpen in the seventh to up Elba's lead to 6-0 and Brundidge went down without further problems in the bottom of the inning as the All-Stars posted the big 6-0 win.

Shane Blanton got 3 hits and knocked in 2 runs to lead Elba at the plate, while Mark Magwood added 2 hits and also collected 2 RBI's. Getting 1 hit were Joe Johnson, Shane Spurlin and Todd McCall. Holland and Foster got 2 hits apiece for Brundidge.

Jamie Whitworth pitched four innings for Elba and allowed 4 hits, while striking out 7 to get the win, while other pitchers included Shane Spurlin, Shane Blanton and Joe Johnson.

to compete at state by easily winning the District 2 title two weeks ago in Opp. At the tournament, Elba defeated Andalusia 25-22, Opp 12-8 and Opp again, 18-8.

Ron Bryan got 8 hits in 12 at bats, scored 9 runs and collected 6 RBI's to pace the Elba hitters at district, while other top hitters included Jason Free (6-14, 8 RBI's), Greg Thigpen (3-9, 6 runs and 5 RBI's), Eric Simmons (3-9, 5 runs and 11 RBI's) and Chris Parrish (4-9, 8 runs scored and 3 RBI's).

The pitching staff at district included Eric Simmons, Joey Donaldson, Billy Mitchell and Ron Bryan and the quartet combined to pitch a total of 19 innings, allowing 18 hits and striking out 22 batters.

"We've been working hard to get ready for the state tourney," stated Elba manager Mickey McCollough, "and the kids are ready to play. We know that the teams at state will be good and that we'll have to play good to win, but we're confident that we have a pretty good team ourselves and we're going down there with the intention of winning it all. We hit the ball real well at district and hope to continue hitting it at state, but I guess the pitching will be the key, because pitching is what wins games at any level of play."

AND KEEPS ON TICKING...The clock face on the south tower at the Coffee County courthouse in Elba was struck by lightning last week, but never missed a tick and can still be heard marking the hour twenty-four hours a day.

Five week investigation into drugs and stolen property results in six arrests near Kinston

A five week investigation in Coffee County by various law enforcement officials came to an end last weekend and resulted in the arrest of five men and one woman. Stevie Dean Smith (30), of Rt. 1, Opp and Ralph Baker (36), of Coffee County, were arrested by Coffee County authorities and charged with possession of cocaine, while Covington County authorities arrested Donnie Smith (41), of Orlando, FL.; Timothy McCoy (34), of Tall, FL.; Jasper Baker (23), of Orlando, FL.; and Anettee Suzette Biese (27), of Orlando, and charged all with possession of stolen vehicles.

Additional charges are pending against all six persons arrested. According to Coffee County Sheriff's Department Deputy Buddy Ammons, various law enforcement officers had kept a home near Kinston under surveillance for the past 4-5 weeks after learning that persons at the residence could be allegedly handling cocaine and stolen vehicles.

The officers at the scene witnessed vehicles leaving the residence early Sunday morning, July 24, and upon stopping the vehicles discovered the vehicles, a 1986 Ford Bronco and 1983 Toyota Pick Up, were reported to be stolen.

A search warrant was received and upon searching the residence discovered cocaine, a small amount of marijuana and stolen merchandise.

Items seized in the search included two 4-wheel ATVs, one 3-wheel ATV, a motor home, a Toyota recreational vehicle, a small farm tractor, a Camaro dragster and a Kenworth 18-wheel tractor-trailer.

County offices to purchase computers

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, July 25 at the courthouse in Elba and agreed to send out invitations to bid on a computer system to be used by county offices at each courthouse locations. Revenue Commissioner Ronnie Burns told the commission that several years ago he and former Comm. Rex Boutwell had visited neighboring counties to view the work of computers and sent out invitations for bids on equipment. The bids received were higher than expected and all were rejected. Burns reported Monday that over three-fourths of the counties in the state now use computers and the time had passed for Coffee County to join the move.

The revenue commissioner told the commission that the state would pay for 60 percent of the cost of computer services dealing with mapping and appraisal and the commission's share of the total system would be approximately 50 percent of the total cost, or an estimated $125,000.

The commission was reminded that it now pays approximately $45,000 per year for outside computer services and agreed that the expense of the new computers could be paid off in less than three years, using the annual expense now incurred as payments.

The commission approved a request to send out invitations to bid to the computers and explained that when installed residents paying property taxes could pay at either courthouse and the process of purchasing a tax would be reduced to a one-step process, bypassing the office of the revenue commissioner.

It is expected that the computer system will be operational by early October, 1988. In other action at Monday's meeting, which lasted only one hour, the commission:

approved the minutes of the previous meeting with one correction;

accepted the low bid of $4,928.20 for fuel for the county's vehicles from Health Oil Company;

accepted the low bid of $5.35 per gallon from BASF on a latex additive to be used by the highway department;

was told that the engineer had written a letter to a resident of County Road 48 stating the road had an 80 foot right-of-way;

tabled a request from the county engineer for permission to conduct a public works conference in Toronto on Sept. 24-25;

was told spec's would be ready at the next meeting for sending out invitations to bid on a boom loader to be attached on a truck;

agreed to print the employees' handbook with corrections as adopted at a previous meeting;

approved a $500 per month expense allowance for District Judge Tom Head;

heard Comm. Damascus Crittenden report on the state convention for county commissioners, held recently in Huntsville;

and, agreed to order length of service pins for county employees.

The next regularly scheduled meeting will be on Monday, August 8, in Elba.

EXPLAINS NEED FOR COMPUTERS...Coffee County Revenue Commissioner Ronnie Burns was present at Monday's meeting of the Coffee County Commission and successfully presented a request for the commission to install computers at all county offices. Bids will be opened at the next meeting of the commission and the computers are expected to be in place by mid-October.

Thursday. He said someone had misunderstood his instructions and after the problem was brought to his attention, the property owner was approached and gave the City of Elba a $75.00 check to cover the cost of the work on private property.

Groundbreaking ceremonies scheduled in August for memorial dedicated to Coffee County veterans

The planned construction of a memorial honoring Coffee County's Veterans has been announced by National Security Insurance Company's President J. R. Brunson. Plans for the memorial are in the final stages with groundbreaking ceremonies to be held in August.

The memorial will be located in a natural setting on property adjacent to the Company's Corporate Headquarters on U.S. Highway 84 East in Elba. Initially, the main emphasis of the memorial will be a large elevated circular plaza with a five-point star in the center. A flag pole at each point will fly the flag of a major branch of the military services. Brunson stated the Company believes the white star on a blue background is an appropriate symbol to honor those who have been called upon to defend our Nation and preserve peace. The star will be in the center of the plaza, facing upward, serving as a constant reminder to military aviators of local citizens' appreciation of their service.

The first phase of construction is scheduled to be completed by Veterans Day, November 11th. Future plans include other emphasis areas including the erection of monuments honoring those from Coffee County who lost their lives in the line of duty in each war and major conflict. The memorial has been a long-time dream of Company President J. R. Brunson; however, the Alabama Reunion encouraged him to push for completion of the first phase during 1988.

Brunson further stated that National Security was pleased that it could honor the Veterans in this way and in addition to encouraging the general public to visit the memorial will utilize its premium notices and general correspondence to invite policyholders, stockholders, etc. from throughout the Nation to visit the memorial and other points of interest in the Wiregrass area.

The commission was reminded that it now pays approximately $45,000 per year for outside computer services and agreed that the expense of the new computers could be paid off in less than three years, using the annual expense now incurred as payments.

The commission approved a request to send out invitations to bid to the computers and explained that when installed residents paying property taxes could pay at either courthouse and the process of purchasing a tax would be reduced to a one-step process, bypassing the office of the revenue commissioner.

It is expected that the computer system will be operational by early October, 1988. In other action at Monday's meeting, which lasted only one hour, the commission:

Politics begin to heat up in City of New Brockton

It looks like a "hot summer" for the City of New Brockton, at least as far as politics is concerned, as a total of 16 candidates have qualified to seek political office in the upcoming municipal elections.

New Brockton, like many other cities across the state, was forced to change its at-large election method by a federal court order and went to a district method, in which only those residents living in the district could seek office and voters in each district could vote only for the candidates in the district. The race for Mayor drew a field of five candidates, including incumbent James E. Driskell, Robert L. Miles, Benmar M. Bowdoin, Henry F. Cardwell and Dovell "Dub" Jones.

New Brockton Elementary School principal Charles B. Cole is unopposed in the race for District 4 and in District 5 incumbents Don W. Russell and Laymon Tindol will join Douglas Mad dox in the race for the council seat.

In District 2, incumbent Ralph Medley will be opposed by Kathryn S. Holley and Alma Louise Hornsby, while in District 3 it will be a two man race between David Randall Mansfield and W.C. "Bud" Goodson.

Ladon Smith and Britt Lee will battle for the council seat from District 4 and in District 5 incumbents Don W. Russell and Laymon Tindol will join Douglas Mad dox in the race for the council seat.

WORKING ON PRIVATE PROPERTY... Two Elba city employees were caught building a driveway on private property last Thursday morning. They dug out, framed up and poured the concrete for the driveway from the street up onto the homeowner's property. City officials first denied to THE ELBA CLIPPER that it had been done but later admitted the work was done. Mayor Bob English said he told them to break the curb and pour the concrete just back to the right-of-way. English later showed the city council a check for $75.00 that he said was from the property owner to cover the cost of the mistaken work by city employees. There are still conflicting reports over just who was responsible for the work on private property being done and English told council members "someone misunderstood the instructions".

City Council hears report on Mulberry Heights pool

The Elba City Council met briefly Monday evening. The order of business was light and not a single motion was made during the short meeting.

The printed agenda carried only the opening prayer, roll call and approval of the minutes, along with the routine report by the Chief of Police, which this week was "I have nothing to report."

Council member Jack Prescott spoke up and told the group of the recommendations for improvements at the Mulberry pool, many of which have already been but no practice, including a certified life guard. He also recommended a special thanks go to John Larry Gilbert for pulling a four year old youth from the bottom of the pool and reviving him.

Mayor Bob English reported to the council on the matter of city employees building and paving a driveway on Adkinson Street last Thursday. He said someone had misunderstood his instructions and after the problem was brought to his attention, the property owner was approached and gave the City of Elba a $75.00 check to cover the cost of the work on private property.

Anyone wishing to submit questions to the candidates should mail their questions to the Elba Jaycees, P.O. Box 486, Elba, Alabama 36623.

Willie Smith to exit political scene in Brantley

Politics in the City of Brantley will take on a new look this summer as three-term Mayor Willie Smith and two incumbent councilmen exit City Hall.

Smith, who served four-years on the council prior to a twelve-year stint as mayor, announced earlier this summer that he would not seek a fourth term.

Looking to fill Smith's seat as Mayor are Taylor Weed and Jackie Morgan, while a total of eight political hopefuls will battle it out for the five seats on the city council.

In District 1, where the top two vote getters will be elected, incumbent Earl Henderson will join Arthur Pitts, Joey King and Leroy Bogan in the race, while in District 2, where the top three vote getters will take office, incumbents Fran Tisdale and Comer Carpenter will be joined by Jim Brook and Julia S. Prescott.
